

Positive nouns that start with C

60 nouns with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Calmness n.

A peaceful and steady state of mind or manner.
Her calmness helped the frightened horse settle.

Camaraderie n.

Warm trust and friendship among people who spend time together.
Shared meals built camaraderie among the new hospital volunteers.

Candor n.

The quality of speaking honestly and openly.
His candor allowed the team to correct the problem early.

Capability n.

The skill or power needed to do something well.
The new pump gives the station greater firefighting capability.

Capstone n.

A crowning achievement that completes substantial work.
The public exhibition became a capstone for the apprentices' training.

Care package n.

A parcel of useful or comforting gifts sent with affection.
Her care package included tea, socks, and three handwritten notes.

Caregiver n.

A person who regularly supports someone who needs care.
The caregiver listened patiently and wrote down every question.

Catharsis n.

Emotional release that brings relief or renewed calm.
Painting the storm provided catharsis after a difficult week.

Celebration n.

A joyful event or act that honors something meaningful.
The harvest celebration brought three generations together.

Centerpiece n.

The most admired or important feature of something.
The restored clock became the centerpiece of the town library.

Certainty n.

A firm and well-founded sense that something is true.
The signed agreement gave both families welcome certainty.

Champ n.

An admired winner or exceptionally capable person.
The spelling champ helped younger pupils practice without embarrassment.

Champion n.

A winner or a strong supporter of a person or cause.

She became a champion for safer streets near every school.

Change-maker n.

A person who creates useful social or practical improvement.

The young change-maker organized a free repair workshop.

Charisma n.

A compelling personal warmth that attracts and inspires others.

The host's quiet charisma made newcomers feel included.

Charity n.

Generous help given to people or causes in need.

The concert raised enough money for the local food charity.

Charm n.

A pleasing quality that attracts affection or delight.

The little theater's hand-painted signs add to its charm.

Charmer n.

A person whose warmth and appeal delight others.

The gentle puppy was a charmer with every visitor.

Cheerleader n.

A person who actively encourages and supports others.

Mina is the team's most reliable cheerleader after a setback.

Chivalry n.

Honorable conduct marked by courage, courtesy, and generosity.

Her chivalry showed in how she defended the absent volunteer.

Chuckle n.

A quiet, warm laugh expressing gentle amusement.

Her clever rhyme drew a chuckle from the tired nurses.

Cinch n.

Something certain to succeed or pleasantly easy to do.

With labeled pieces, assembling the shelf became a cinch.

Civility n.

Polite and respectful behavior toward others.

Civility allowed the council to discuss the dispute productively.

Clarity n.

The quality of being clear, understandable, and exact.

A labeled diagram added clarity to the repair guide.

Class act n.

A person admired for gracious and honorable conduct.

Devin was a class act, praising his rival after the final.

Clemency n.

Mercy shown by reducing punishment or hardship.

The governor granted clemency after reviewing the new evidence.

Closeness n.

A warm state of trust, affection, or connection.

Working on the garden deepened the siblings' closeness.

Closure n.

A sense of resolution that allows healing or acceptance.

The returned journal gave the family some welcome closure.

Codebreaker n.

A skilled solver of secret messages or difficult patterns.

The young codebreaker spotted the repeated symbol before anyone else.

Cohesion n.

The quality of holding together as a united whole.

Shared goals created cohesion among the new volunteers.

Collaboration n.

Work done jointly toward a shared result.

The mural was a collaboration between artists and local children.

Comity n.

Mutual courtesy and goodwill between people or groups.

Years of exchange visits restored comity between the neighboring towns.

Commitment n.

A firm promise or steady dedication to a purpose.

Her commitment kept the literacy program open through winter.

Common ground n.

Shared beliefs or interests that support mutual understanding.

The neighbors found common ground in protecting the riverside path.

Community n.

A group connected by place, interests, or mutual support.

The community rebuilt the playground after the flood.

Companion n.

A person or animal who shares time and offers company.

Her rescue dog became a steady companion on daily walks.

Compassion n.

Concern for suffering combined with a wish to help.

Compassion led the neighbors to organize meals for the family.

Compliment n.

A sincere expression of praise or admiration.

Her specific compliment recognized the apprentice's patience.

Composure n.

Calm self-control, especially in a difficult moment.

His composure reassured the passengers during the rough landing.

Concinnity n.

Elegant harmony among the parts of a whole.

The garden's concinnity came from repeating simple shapes and colors.

Concord n.

Peaceful agreement and harmony between people.

The shared project restored concord between the two groups.

Confidant n.

A trusted person with whom private thoughts are safely shared.

Her oldest confidant listened carefully before offering any advice.

Confidence n.

Trust in one's ability, judgment, or likelihood of success.

Practice gave the new speaker confidence before the assembly.

Connoisseur n.

A knowledgeable person with refined appreciation of a subject.

The tea connoisseur praised the farmer's most delicate blend.

Consensus n.

Broad agreement reached through discussion and shared consideration.

The workshop reached consensus on three priorities for the park.

Consent n.

Freely given permission based on clear understanding and choice.

The researcher confirmed each participant's consent before recording began.

Consideration n.

Careful thought for another person's needs or feelings.

A ramp was added out of consideration for visitors with limited mobility.

Consolation n.

Comfort that eases disappointment, grief, or difficulty.

The thriving saplings offered consolation after the ancient tree fell.

Consonance n.

Agreement or harmony among ideas, people, or sounds.

The final design achieved consonance between beauty and accessibility.

Contentment n.

A peaceful sense of satisfaction and enoughness.

Contentment settled over the campers as the fire crackled.

Contribution n.

Something given to help a shared effort succeed.

Her clear map was a valuable contribution to the rescue plan.

Conviction n.

A strong and sincere belief that guides action.

Her conviction that every child can learn shaped the program.

Courage n.

The strength to face fear, pain, or difficulty.

It took courage to report the mistake and propose a repair.

Courtesy n.

Polite and considerate behavior toward other people.

A simple courtesy made the crowded journey easier for everyone.

Craftsmanship n.

Skill and care shown in making something well.

The table's smooth joints reveal exceptional craftsmanship.

Craftsperson n.

A person who makes things with developed skill and care.

The craftsperson shaped the replacement handle from reclaimed oak.

Creativity n.

The ability to form original and useful ideas.

Limited space encouraged creativity in the garden design.

Crowd-pleaser n.

A person or thing that reliably delights an audience.

The band's final song was an irresistible crowd-pleaser.

Curiosity n.

A strong desire to learn, explore, or understand.

Curiosity led the children to examine every tide pool.

Cynosure n.

A person or thing receiving admiration and eager attention.

The restored fountain became the cynosure of the summer festival.