

Positive nouns that start with S

57 nouns with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Safety n.

The condition of being protected from likely harm.

New lighting improved safety along the path.

Sagacity n.

Wise and practical judgment.

Her sagacity helped the village prepare before the drought.

Sage n.

A person respected for wisdom and sound judgment.

The village sage listened carefully before offering advice.

Saint n.

A person admired for exceptional goodness and kindness.

The exhausted nurse was a saint to every frightened patient.

Salvation n.

Rescue from danger, suffering, or serious loss.

The emergency water delivery was the village's salvation.

Sanctuary n.

A safe and peaceful place for people or animals.

The wetland provides a sanctuary for migrating birds.

Satisfaction n.

Pleasure from fulfilling a need or doing something well.

Restoring the old bench gave him lasting satisfaction.

Scholar n.

A person devoted to careful study and learning.

The young scholar shared her research with the whole class.

Scholarship n.

Academic achievement or funding that supports further study.

Her scholarship opened the door to engineering school.

Security n.

Safety, stability, or freedom from serious worry.

The permanent contract gave the family greater security.

Self-acceptance n.

A fair and compassionate acceptance of oneself.

Self-acceptance helped her learn from mistakes without shame.

Self-belief n.

Confidence in one's own worth or ability.

Practice strengthened her self-belief before the audition.

Self-care n.

Actions that protect one's health and well-being.

A quiet lunch break became an essential part of his self-care.

Self-control n.

The ability to guide one's actions and emotions wisely.

Self-control helped him answer the criticism calmly.

Self-efficacy n.

Confidence in one's ability to accomplish a task.

Small successes strengthened his self-efficacy during rehabilitation.

Self-esteem n.

A healthy sense of one's own worth.

Supportive feedback helped rebuild her self-esteem.

Self-knowledge n.

Clear understanding of one's character, needs, and motives.

Greater self-knowledge helped him choose work that suited him.

Self-respect n.

A healthy regard for one's own worth and boundaries.

Self-respect gave her the courage to ask for fair treatment.

Self-starter n.

A person who begins useful work without needing direction.

The self-starter organized the supplies before anyone asked.

Self-worth n.

A secure sense of one's inherent value.

Good mentoring restored the young athlete's self-worth.

Selflessness n.

Generous concern for others before personal advantage.

His selflessness inspired the whole team to help.

Sensitivity n.

Awareness and consideration of feelings or subtle differences.

Her sensitivity made the difficult conversation gentler.

Serendipity n.

The happy discovery of something valuable by chance.

Serendipity led them to a hidden garden during the walk.

Serenity n.

A state of calm and untroubled peace.

The lake's stillness gave the campsite a sense of serenity.

Service n.

Helpful work performed for another person or community.

Her years of public service improved life across the county.

Sharing n.

The act of giving others a part of what one has.

Sharing tools saved every gardener money.

Showstopper n.

A performance or creation that earns overwhelming admiration.

The student choir's finale was an undeniable showstopper.

Simplicity n.

The quality of being clear and free from needless complexity.

The app's simplicity helped first-time users succeed.

Sincerity n.

The quality of being honest in feeling or intention.

The sincerity of her apology helped restore trust.

Sisterhood n.

Supportive connection and solidarity among women or girls.

The runners formed a sisterhood grounded in encouragement and trust.

Skill n.

Developed ability gained through learning or practice.

Years of practice gave the carpenter remarkable skill.

Solace n.

Comfort received during sadness, worry, or disappointment.

The familiar garden offered solace after a difficult week.

Solicitude n.

Attentive care and concern for another's well-being.

Her solicitude made every homesick camper feel noticed.

Solidarity n.

Unity and mutual support among people with a shared interest.

Workers showed solidarity by contributing to the emergency fund.

Solution n.

An answer or method that resolves a problem.

The shade cloth offered a simple solution for the young plants.

Solver n.

A person skilled at finding answers to problems.

The patient solver tested each connection until the lamp worked.

Soulmate n.

A deeply compatible and cherished companion.

She found a loyal soulmate who shared her curiosity.

Splendor n.

Impressive beauty or excellence.

Autumn added golden splendor to the valley.

Stability n.

The quality of being steady, secure, and dependable.

A regular income brought the household greater stability.

Stamina n.

Strength to sustain prolonged physical or mental effort.

Weekly practice built the choir's stamina for longer concerts.

Standard-bearer n.

A leading representative of an admired cause or standard.
The clinic became a standard-bearer for respectful elder care.

Steadfastness n.

Firm and dependable commitment through difficulty.
Her steadfastness kept the campaign focused.

Steward n.

A person who responsibly cares for something valued.
The ranger serves as a steward of the ancient woodland.

Stewardship n.

Responsible care for something entrusted to one's protection.
Community stewardship restored the riverbank.

Stillness n.

A peaceful absence of movement, noise, or disturbance.
Dawn brought a welcome stillness to the lakeside cabin.

Straight-arrow n.

An honest, dependable person with strong principles.
Everyone knew Priya as a straight-arrow who kept her promises.

Strategist n.

A person skilled at planning how to achieve goals.
The strategist found a route that saved both time and fuel.

Strength n.

Power, resilience, or a valuable ability.
Asking for help became a source of strength.

Success n.

The achievement of a worthwhile aim or favorable result.
The clean-water project became a success through local leadership.

Succor n.

Help and relief given during hardship or distress.
Neighbors brought food and succor to the displaced families.

Sunshine n.

Direct sunlight or a source of warmth and happiness.
Morning sunshine filled the kitchen.

Superstar n.

An exceptionally successful, admired, or talented person.
The young goalkeeper became the tournament's unexpected superstar.

Survivor n.

A person who continues or recovers after serious difficulty.
The survivor became a patient mentor to others.

Sustainability n.

The ability to continue without exhausting people or resources.
Solar power improved the farm's sustainability.

Sweetheart n.

A dearly loved or exceptionally kind person.

That sweetheart delivered groceries to three isolated neighbors.

Sympathy n.

Understanding and concern for another person's difficulty.

His sympathy was matched by practical support.

Synergy n.

A combined effect greater than the separate efforts.

The teams' synergy produced a better design.