

Positive nouns that start with W

45 nouns with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Wabi-sabi n.

An appreciation of beauty in natural imperfection and change.

Wabi-sabi guided the potter to honor each uneven edge.

Wanderlust n.

A strong and joyful desire to explore new places.

Wanderlust led the friends along quiet coastal paths.

Warm-up n.

A gentle preparation for exercise, performance, or focused work.

A playful warm-up helped the choir find its confidence.

Warmth n.

Friendly affection, kindness, or a comforting degree of heat.

Her warmth helped the nervous speaker relax.

Warrior n.

A brave and determined person who fights for a worthy cause.

The patient became a warrior for better access to treatment.

Wayfinder n.

A person or tool that helps others find a route or direction.

As the group's wayfinder, Lina checked each trail marker.

Wayfinding n.

The process of finding and following a route through a place.

Clear colors improved wayfinding through the hospital.

Waymaker n.

Someone who creates opportunities or opens paths for others.

The retiring principal was a waymaker for first-generation students.

Wealth n.

An abundant supply of something valuable or useful.

The archive contains a wealth of local knowledge.

Welfare n.

The health, safety, happiness, and general well-being of a person or group.

Every decision placed the children's welfare first.

Well-being n.

A state of health, comfort, safety, and contentment.

Regular breaks improved the team's well-being.

Well-wisher n.

A person who hopes for another's happiness or success.

Well-wishers filled the retirement card with warm memories.

Wellness n.

The active state of being healthy in body and mind.

The school added quiet rooms to support student wellness.

Wellspring n.

A rich and continuing source of something valuable.

Curiosity became a wellspring of new ideas for the team.

Whimsy n.

Playful imagination or charmingly unusual humor.

A touch of whimsy made the serious exhibit inviting.

Whiz n.

A person who is exceptionally skilled at something.

Ask Priya, our spreadsheet whiz, to check the formula.

Wholesomeness n.

The quality of supporting health, goodness, or well-being.

Families appreciated the festival's warmth and wholesomeness.

Will n.

Firm intention, determination, or readiness to act.

Her will to recover grew stronger with each small gain.

Willingness n.

Readiness to help, act, learn, or consider an idea.

His willingness to listen rebuilt trust.

Willpower n.

The ability to control impulses and persist toward a goal.

She used willpower to keep training on difficult mornings.

Windfall n.

An unexpected benefit, gain, or piece of good fortune.

The extra grant was a windfall for the youth orchestra.

Wingman n.

A trusted male companion who offers practical support.

Her wingman checked the route and carried the spare tools.

Wingwoman n.

A trusted female companion who offers practical support.

His wingwoman introduced him to everyone at the fundraiser.

Winner n.

A person, team, or idea that succeeds or proves especially good.

The simple low-cost design was the clear winner.

Wisdom n.

Sound judgment gained through knowledge, experience, and reflection.

Her wisdom helped the group act without rushing.

Wish n.

A hope or sincere desire for something good to happen.

Her birthday wish was for the whole family to gather.

Wit n.

The ability to think quickly and express ideas with clever humor.
Her gentle wit made the difficult lesson memorable.

Wizard n.

A person with exceptional skill in a particular field.
The scheduling wizard found room for every requested appointment.

Wonder n.

A feeling of delighted surprise and curiosity.
The night sky filled the children with wonder.

Wonder-worker n.

A person who achieves remarkably helpful or impressive results.
The grateful team called their inventive mechanic a wonder-worker.

Wonderland n.

A place filled with beauty, delight, or marvels.
Fresh snow transformed the familiar park into a quiet wonderland.

Wonderment n.

A feeling of delighted surprise, awe, and curiosity.
The first snowfall filled the children with wonderment.

Wordsmith n.

A person skilled at writing or choosing effective words.
The campaign's wordsmith turned technical findings into a clear message.

Work ethic n.

A dependable commitment to doing work carefully and responsibly.
Her strong work ethic earned the trust of every client.

Work of art n.

Something made with exceptional beauty, imagination, or skill.
The restored mosaic is a work of art and local pride.

Work-life balance n.

A healthy division of time between work and personal life.
Flexible hours improved work-life balance for the entire nursing team.

Workaround n.

A practical method that bypasses a problem successfully.
The technician found a safe workaround before the morning clinic opened.

Workhorse n.

A dependable person or thing that handles a great deal of useful work.
The sturdy printer is the office workhorse.

Workmanship n.

The skill and care shown in making or repairing something.
Fine workmanship is visible in every joint of the cabinet.

World-beater n.

A person or thing capable of surpassing excellent competition.
The small team developed a world-beater of an electric motor.

Worth n.

The value, usefulness, or importance of someone or something.

Her work showed the worth of preserving local knowledge.

Worthiness n.

The quality of deserving respect, attention, or support.

The panel judged each proposal on its worthiness and evidence.

Wow n.

A person or thing that is strikingly impressive or successful.

The renovated reading room is a real wow.

Wow-factor n.

A striking quality that creates immediate admiration or excitement.

Colorful lighting gave the modest stage genuine wow-factor.

Wunderkind n.

A young person with exceptional talent or achievement.

The chess wunderkind shared her strategies with the beginner group.