

Positive verbs that start with A

37 verbs with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Abound v.

To exist in plentiful and welcome amounts.
Wildflowers abound beside the trail after the spring rain.

Absolve v.

To free someone from guilt, blame, or obligation.
The new evidence will absolve the volunteer of any fault.

Accept v.

To receive, recognize, or make room for something willingly.
The group agreed to accept new evidence and revise the plan.

Accommodate v.

To adjust helpfully for someone's needs or circumstances.
The venue can accommodate guests who need step-free seating.

Accomplish v.

To complete something through effort or skill.
The crew hopes to accomplish the repairs before the first frost.

Achieve v.

To reach a desired result through effort or skill.
With steady practice, Lina can achieve the qualifying time.

Acknowledge v.

To recognize the truth, value, or contribution of something.
The director paused to acknowledge the volunteers who stayed late.

Activate v.

To make something ready and able to work.
Pressing the green switch will activate the backup pump.

Adapt v.

To adjust successfully to new needs or conditions.
Native plants adapt well to the region's dry summers.

Admire v.

To regard someone or something with warm respect or pleasure.
I admire how calmly the nurse explains each step.

Adore v.

To love or enjoy someone or something deeply.
The children adore the librarian who remembers their favorite stories.

Adorn v.

To make something more beautiful with decoration.
Local artists will adorn the walkway with painted tiles.

Advance v.

To move forward or help something make progress.

The scholarship will advance research into cleaner batteries.

Advocate v.

To speak or act in support of a person or worthwhile cause.

Local parents advocate for safer crossings near the school.

Affirm v.

To state that something is true, valuable, or supported.

The coach took time to affirm the progress each player had made.

Agree v.

To share an opinion or willingly accept a proposal.

After reviewing the evidence, both teams agree on the next step.

Aid v.

To help a person, effort, or recovery.

Clear labels aid visitors who are finding the clinic for the first time.

Allay v.

To reduce worry, fear, or painful concern.

A clear safety briefing helped allay the parents' concerns.

Alleviate v.

To make pain, hardship, or difficulty less severe.

Extra buses will alleviate crowding during the morning commute.

Amaze v.

To fill someone with delighted surprise or wonder.

The fireflies amaze visitors when the meadow darkens.

Ameliorate v.

To improve a difficult or unsatisfactory situation.

Shade trees can ameliorate extreme heat on city streets.

Amend v.

To improve something by correcting or revising it.

The council agreed to amend the rule after hearing residents.

Amplify v.

To increase the strength, reach, or effect of something.

The exhibit will amplify the voices of local craftspeople.

Amuse v.

To entertain someone or make them smile or laugh.

The playful puppet show will amuse children while they wait.

Animate v.

To bring life, energy, or lively interest to something.

Colorful stories animate the guide's lessons about local history.

Anticipate v.

To look forward to something expected with interest or pleasure.

We anticipate a lively harvest festival this autumn.

Applaud v.

To show approval or praise, often by clapping.

The audience rose to applaud the young dancers' final bow.

Appreciate v.

To recognize and value the good qualities of someone or something.

Residents appreciate the shade provided by the old trees.

Approve v.

To accept or express a favorable opinion of something.

The safety board will approve the route once every check passes.

Ascend v.

To move upward or rise to a higher level.

The hikers began to ascend as the morning mist cleared.

Aspire v.

To direct effort toward a meaningful goal.

Many students aspire to use their skills in service of their community.

Assist v.

To help someone complete a task or meet a need.

Two volunteers assist older residents with the online form.

Assuage v.

To ease an unpleasant feeling, pain, or worry.

Warm tea helped assuage his sore throat after rehearsal.

Assure v.

To give confidence, certainty, or freedom from doubt.

Fresh test results assure residents that the water is safe.

Attain v.

To succeed in reaching a valued goal or level.

The swimmers trained steadily to attain the national standard.

Attune v.

To bring into harmony or sensitive awareness.

Morning walks attune the students to seasonal changes.

Awaken v.

To bring a feeling, interest, or awareness into activity.

The museum visit may awaken a love of history in young visitors.