

Positive verbs that start with T

16 verbs with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Teach v.

To help someone gain knowledge, judgment, or skill.

The demonstration will teach visitors how to test the water safely.

Tend v.

To care for someone or something attentively.

Neighbors tended the garden while its owner recovered.

Thank v.

To express gratitude or appreciation.

We thanked the volunteers for their patient work.

Thrill v.

To fill someone with excitement and delight.

The surprise visit will thrill the children.

Thrive v.

To grow strongly, develop well, or prosper.

Children thrive when they feel safe enough to ask questions.

Tickle v.

To amuse or delight someone in a lighthearted way.

The silly rhyme will tickle younger readers.

Toast v.

To celebrate someone or something by raising a drink.

The guests toasted the couple's happy future.

Trailblaze v.

To create a new path or method for others to follow.

The researchers trailblaze affordable ways to store clean energy.

Train v.

To teach and develop a skill through practice.

Experienced guides train every new volunteer.

Transcend v.

To rise above an ordinary limit or difficulty.

Their friendship helped transcend old divisions.

Transform v.

To change something greatly into a better form or condition.

The new roof will transform the hall into a year-round space.

Treasure v.

To value and care for someone or something greatly.

They treasure the letters their grandfather wrote.

Trust v.

To rely on the honesty, ability, or dependability of someone or something.

People can trust the result because the method is published.

Try v.

To make a sincere effort toward an aim.

She will try again with a clearer plan.

Turbocharge v.

To improve or accelerate something with exceptional energy.

The grant will turbocharge repairs across the school district.

Twinkle v.

To shine with small flashes or lively happiness.

Her eyes twinkle when she tells the story.