

Positive words that start with W

221 words with meanings and examples. Updated 10 October 2026. Free to print and share in a classroom.

Adjectives

Waggish adj.

Playfully humorous in a clever, good-natured way.

His waggish reply eased the tension in the room.

Wakeful adj.

Alert, attentive, and fully awake.

The wakeful guard noticed the first signs of smoke.

Warm adj.

Friendly, affectionate, or comfortably full of heat.

The host gave each guest a warm welcome.

Warmhearted adj.

Kind, generous, and openly caring.

A warmhearted neighbor brought soup and stayed to help.

Warranted adj.

Reasonable, justified, or supported by the facts.

A careful celebration was warranted after the clean test results.

Watchable adj.

Enjoyable or engaging enough to reward watching.

Careful editing made the local history film highly watchable.

Watchful adj.

Carefully alert to needs, changes, or possible danger.

The watchful guide kept the youngest hikers near the center.

Water-resistant adj.

Able to resist water damage or penetration.

The water-resistant map remained readable throughout the rainy hike.

Water-saving adj.

Designed to conserve water without reducing useful performance.

Water-saving fixtures lowered the community center's monthly bills.

Waterproof adj.

Completely protected against water entering or causing damage.

Her waterproof boots kept every creek crossing comfortable.

Watertight adj.

Secure against leaks or, of an argument, free from serious flaws.

The engineer presented a watertight case for replacing the bridge.

Wealthy adj.

Having abundant money, resources, or valuable qualities.

The region is wealthy in forests, rivers, and skilled craftspeople.

Wear-resistant adj.

Able to withstand frequent use without serious damage.

Wear-resistant flooring kept the busy clinic entrance looking fresh.

Weather-resistant adj.

Able to withstand exposure to difficult outdoor conditions.

Weather-resistant signs stayed clear through snow and summer heat.

Weatherproof adj.

Protected or made secure against damaging weather.

The weatherproof shelter gave cyclists a dry place to rest.

Web-savvy adj.

Skilled at using online tools safely and effectively.

A web-savvy librarian helped families access public services online.

Welcomed adj.

Received gladly and made to feel accepted.

Each new volunteer felt welcomed from the first meeting.

Welcoming adj.

Making people feel accepted, comfortable, and invited to participate.

Clear signs and friendly staff made the center welcoming to first-time visitors.

Welfare-minded adj.

Attentive to the health, safety, and wellbeing of others.

The welfare-minded manager added paid recovery days after emergencies.

Well-adapted adj.

Suited by skill, design, or development to particular conditions.

The well-adapted seedlings thrived in the dry garden.

Well-adjusted adj.

Emotionally balanced and able to handle ordinary challenges.

The well-adjusted dog settled calmly into its new home.

Well-advised adj.

Based on good judgment or sound guidance.

The council was well-advised to test the route before winter.

Well-appointed adj.

Equipped with everything needed for comfort or a purpose.

The well-appointed workshop had safe tools for every student.

Well-balanced adj.

Containing the right proportions or showing stable judgment.

A well-balanced schedule leaves time for focused work and rest.

Well-behaved adj.

Acting politely and with appropriate self-control.

The well-behaved puppy waited quietly beside the cafe table.

Well-built adj.

Strongly and skillfully constructed.

The well-built ramp remained steady through years of use.

Well-cared-for adj.

Given the attention and support needed to thrive.

Every well-cared-for sapling produced new leaves by spring.

Well-chosen adj.

Carefully selected and especially suitable.

A well-chosen example made the difficult idea clear.

Well-connected adj.

Linked effectively to useful people, places, or systems.

The well-connected trail network lets residents walk safely across town.

Well-considered adj.

Carefully examined and based on sound judgment.

Her well-considered proposal addressed both access and long-term cost.

Well-constructed adj.

Built or arranged with skill, strength, and care.

The well-constructed footbridge remained firm after the heavy rain.

Well-coordinated adj.

Organized so that people or parts work smoothly together.

A well-coordinated response delivered supplies before the roads closed.

Well-crafted adj.

Made or expressed with care and skill.

Her well-crafted question opened a thoughtful discussion.

Well-defined adj.

Clearly described, shaped, or distinguished.

A well-defined goal helped the volunteers choose their first step.

Well-deserved adj.

Rightly earned through effort, character, or achievement.

The retiring nurse received a well-deserved standing ovation.

Well-designed adj.

Planned skillfully to work effectively and clearly.

The well-designed form takes less than two minutes to complete.

Well-developed adj.

Advanced, detailed, or mature through careful growth.

Her well-developed proposal answered every practical concern.

Well-disposed adj.

Friendly, helpful, and ready to think favorably of others.

The well-disposed neighbors offered tools before being asked.

Well-done adj.

Completed skillfully and to a high standard.

The inspector praised the well-done repair.

Well-dressed adj.

Wearing clothes that are neat, attractive, and suitable.

The well-dressed host greeted guests at the door.

Well-earned adj.

Fully deserved because of effort, courage, or achievement.

The rescue crew enjoyed a well-earned rest after sunrise.

Well-educated adj.

Having gained broad or deep knowledge through learning.

The well-educated guide explained the ruins without jargon.

Well-equipped adj.

Provided with the tools, skills, or resources needed.

The mobile clinic is well-equipped for routine tests.

Well-established adj.

Firmly recognized, proven, or successfully operating.

The well-established program has trained hundreds of mentors.

Well-executed adj.

Carried out skillfully and with close attention.

The well-executed renovation preserved the hall's original character.

Well-founded adj.

Supported by good evidence or sound reasoning.

Her confidence was well-founded after three successful trials.

Well-functioning adj.

Operating effectively, reliably, and as intended.

A well-functioning ventilation system kept every classroom comfortable.

Well-groomed adj.

Neat, clean, and carefully presented.

The well-groomed rescue dog looked healthy and relaxed.

Well-honed adj.

Developed to a high level through careful practice.

Her well-honed listening skills helped the families reach agreement.

Well-informed adj.

Having accurate and broad knowledge about a subject.

Well-informed residents asked precise questions about the plan.

Well-intentioned adj.

Motivated by a sincere wish to help or do good.

The well-intentioned volunteer listened before suggesting changes.

Well-judged adj.

Showing accurate assessment and sensible restraint.

His well-judged intervention calmed the debate without ending it.

Well-kept adj.

Maintained in a clean, orderly, or healthy condition.

A well-kept garden brightened the entrance to the clinic.

Well-known adj.

Widely recognized, familiar, or respected.

She is well-known for making science lessons welcoming.

Well-led adj.

Guided effectively, fairly, and with clear purpose.

The well-led expedition adapted calmly when the weather shifted.

Well-liked adj.

Regarded with affection and approval by many people.

The well-liked coach remembered every player's name.

Well-lit adj.

Provided with enough clear and useful light.

The well-lit path felt safer after sunset.

Well-loved adj.

Held in lasting affection by many people.

The well-loved crossing guard knew every child's name.

Well-made adj.

Made skillfully from suitable materials.

The well-made boots lasted through many wet winters.

Well-maintained adj.

Kept safe, clean, and effective through regular care.

A well-maintained ramp served visitors reliably in every season.

Well-mannered adj.

Polite, considerate, and respectful in behavior.

The well-mannered students thanked the museum staff.

Well-matched adj.

Suitably paired in ability, character, or purpose.

The well-matched doubles partners anticipated each other's moves.

Well-meaning adj.

Intending to help or be kind, even if not always successful.

Her well-meaning offer gave the new family a useful starting point.

Well-nourished adj.

Supplied with enough healthy food and support for growth.

The well-nourished seedlings soon filled their corner of the garden.

Well-off adj.

Having enough money or resources for a comfortable life.

The cooperative helped more farming families become well-off.

Well-ordered adj.

Arranged clearly, calmly, and with effective structure.

The well-ordered workshop let apprentices find tools without delay.

Well-organized adj.

Arranged clearly and efficiently.

The well-organized pantry made every donation easy to find.

Well-paced adj.

Moving at a speed that is comfortable and effective.

The well-paced lesson left time for questions and practice.

Well-performed adj.

Presented or completed with notable skill.

The well-performed scene earned warm applause from both families.

Well-placed adj.

Positioned or expressed where it will be most effective.

One well-placed sign ended the confusion at the entrance.

Well-planned adj.

Prepared carefully with needs, risks, and steps considered.

The well-planned move kept the library open throughout.

Well-practiced adj.

Made skillful and confident through repeated preparation.

The well-practiced crew completed the safety drill in minutes.

Well-prepared adj.

Ready with the knowledge, practice, or resources needed.

The well-prepared speaker answered questions calmly.

Well-presented adj.

Expressed or displayed clearly, attractively, and appropriately.

The well-presented findings helped residents understand the proposed changes.

Well-preserved adj.

Kept in good condition despite age or use.

The well-preserved letters reveal daily life a century ago.

Well-produced adj.

Created with strong craft and careful technical execution.

Their well-produced podcast made complex science inviting to beginners.

Well-proven adj.

Reliably established through evidence, experience, or repeated success.

The team chose a well-proven method for protecting the wetland.

Well-qualified adj.

Having strong knowledge, skill, or experience for a role.

Three well-qualified nurses applied to lead the clinic.

Well-read adj.

Knowledgeable through reading widely and thoughtfully.

The well-read host suggested a novel for every guest.

Well-reasoned adj.

Supported by clear, careful, and logical thinking.

Her well-reasoned response changed the committee's view.

Well-received adj.

Greeted with approval, interest, or appreciation.

The well-received workshop returned for three additional weekends.

Well-regarded adj.

Respected and thought of favorably.

The well-regarded carpenter trained local apprentices.

Well-researched adj.

Supported by thorough study and reliable evidence.

Her well-researched guide included sources for every health recommendation.

Well-resourced adj.

Provided with sufficient people, tools, or funding.

The well-resourced reading room stayed open during school holidays.

Well-respected adj.

Widely admired for ability, character, or achievement.

A well-respected mediator helped both sides reach agreement.

Well-rested adj.

Refreshed by enough comfortable and restorative sleep.

The well-rested hikers began the final climb with steady energy.

Well-rooted adj.

Firmly grounded in supportive values, knowledge, or community.

Her well-rooted confidence remained steady during the difficult interview.

Well-rounded adj.

Developed across a useful range of skills, interests, or qualities.

The program gives students a well-rounded education.

Well-run adj.

Managed efficiently, fairly, and effectively.

The well-run shelter matched every family with support.

Well-seasoned adj.

Made flavorful or experienced through substantial practice.

A well-seasoned mediator recognized when everyone needed a pause.

Well-spent adj.

Used in a valuable, rewarding, or productive way.

An afternoon helping at the orchard felt well-spent.

Well-spoken adj.

Expressing ideas clearly, politely, and effectively.

The well-spoken student made a concise case for the garden.

Well-staffed adj.

Supplied with enough capable people for its needs.

The well-staffed clinic shortened waits throughout the flu season.

Well-stocked adj.

Supplied with a generous range of useful items.

A well-stocked pantry helped the shelter serve late arrivals.

Well-structured adj.

Organized in a clear, effective, and coherent way.

The well-structured guide answers basic questions first.

Well-suited adj.

Especially appropriate or capable for a purpose.

Her calm manner made her well-suited to emergency work.

Well-supported adj.

Given strong practical, emotional, or evidential backing.

The well-supported trainee grew confident in her new role.

Well-tested adj.

Shown to be reliable through careful repeated testing.

The engineers selected a well-tested design for the flood barrier.

Well-thought-out adj.

Planned carefully with relevant needs and consequences considered.

A well-thought-out schedule protected time for learning and rest.

Well-timed adj.

Happening at the most useful or effective moment.

A well-timed break restored everyone's concentration.

Well-trained adj.

Prepared to perform skillfully through effective instruction and practice.

A well-trained assistance dog guided Marta through the crowded station.

Well-traveled adj.

Experienced through visiting many places.

The well-traveled teacher brought a broad perspective to class.

Well-tuned adj.

Adjusted precisely to perform smoothly and effectively.

The well-tuned bicycle climbed the steep lane without complaint.

Well-versed adj.

Highly knowledgeable or skilled in a subject.

She is well-versed in both local law and practical mediation.

Well-watered adj.

Given enough water to remain healthy and vigorous.

Well-watered herbs flourished beside the sunny kitchen window.

Well-wishing adj.

Expressing sincere hopes for another's happiness or success.

A well-wishing crowd cheered the runners from the bridge.

Well-worded adj.

Expressed clearly, accurately, and with suitable care.

One well-worded question opened a generous and useful conversation.

Well-worn adj.

Comfortably familiar or softened through long and valued use.

She settled into the well-worn chair beside the fire.

Well-written adj.

Composed clearly, skillfully, and with engaging language.

The well-written instructions made the repair easy to follow.

Well-wrought adj.

Formed, made, or expressed with great care and skill.
The well-wrought speech balanced honesty with hope.

Whimsical adj.

Playfully imaginative, unusual, or charming.
Whimsical animal drawings made the clinic less intimidating.

Whip-smart adj.

Exceptionally quick, perceptive, and intelligent.
The whip-smart apprentice found a safer solution before lunch.

White-glove adj.

Marked by exceptionally careful and attentive service.
The hotel provided white-glove support for guests with mobility needs.

White-hat adj.

Ethical and intended to protect computer systems from harm.
A white-hat researcher reported the security flaw privately.

Whole adj.

Complete, healthy, or restored without missing parts.
The careful repair made the old window whole again.

Whole-person adj.

Considering someone's physical, emotional, and social wellbeing together.
The clinic adopted a whole-person approach to long-term recovery.

Wholehearted adj.

Fully sincere, committed, and enthusiastic.
The revised plan received wholehearted approval.

Wholesome adj.

Supporting health, good character, or a sense of well-being.
The camp served wholesome meals and encouraged outdoor play.

Wide-awake adj.

Fully alert, attentive, and ready to act.
The wide-awake crew spotted the loose rope immediately.

Wide-eyed adj.

Showing open curiosity, wonder, or innocent enthusiasm.
Wide-eyed visitors watched the butterflies emerge.

Wide-ranging adj.

Covering a broad and useful variety of subjects or areas.
The review drew on wide-ranging evidence from five regions.

Wieldy adj.

Easy to handle, manage, or use effectively.
The lighter frame made the rescue stretcher more wieldy.

Willing adj.

Ready to do something or consider a request without being forced.
She was willing to change her view when the evidence changed.

Win-win adj.

Benefiting every person or side involved.

The shared garden was a win-win solution for both schools.

Windproof adj.

Designed to prevent wind from passing through or causing harm.

A windproof jacket kept the lookout comfortable on the ridge.

Winnable adj.

Capable of being won through realistic effort and skill.

The early goal convinced the team that the match was winnable.

Winning adj.

Attractive, successful, or likely to earn approval.

Her winning combination of humor and clarity engaged the class.

Winningest adj.

Having achieved more victories than comparable competitors.

The league's winningest coach credited patient practice and teamwork.

Winsome adj.

Sweetly cheerful, appealing, and engaging.

The puppy's winsome expression charmed the shelter visitors.

Winter-hardy adj.

Strong enough to thrive through cold winter conditions.

Winter-hardy greens supplied the kitchen through several frosts.

Wise adj.

Showing sound judgment based on knowledge and experience.

It was wise to test the route before moving the equipment.

Wished-for adj.

Long desired and welcomed when it arrives.

The wished-for rain finally reached the young orchard.

With-it adj.

Well informed, fashionable, and alert to current ideas.

The with-it instructor used familiar examples without chasing trends.

Witty adj.

Clever and amusing in expression.

His witty caption made the history display more inviting.

Wonder-filled adj.

Full of delighted curiosity, amazement, or awe.

The wonder-filled lesson began with tadpoles under a magnifying glass.

Wonder-inspiring adj.

Causing deep admiration, curiosity, or delighted amazement.

The telescope revealed a wonder-inspiring view of Saturn's rings.

Wonder-working adj.

Producing remarkable, beneficial, or seemingly marvelous results.

The story celebrates a wonder-working healer who serves remote villages.

Wonderful adj.

Extremely pleasing, admirable, or enjoyable.

The musicians gave a wonderful performance in the park.

Wonderstruck adj.

Filled with amazement, delight, or awe.

The wonderstruck visitors watched the comet cross the sky.

Wondrous adj.

Inspiring delight, wonder, or admiration.

The cave opened into a wondrous chamber of crystals.

Word-perfect adj.

Exactly accurate in wording or flawlessly memorized.

After one rehearsal, the understudy delivered every line word-perfect.

Work-ready adj.

Fully prepared with the skills needed for employment.

The work-ready graduates entered apprenticeships with practical experience.

Work-saving adj.

Reducing the effort needed to complete a useful task.

A work-saving trolley made meal delivery easier for volunteers.

Workable adj.

Practical and capable of being carried out successfully.

The mediator helped both sides find a workable agreement.

Worker-friendly adj.

Designed to support workers' safety, dignity, and wellbeing.

The worker-friendly policy guarantees predictable shifts and paid breaks.

Working adj.

Functioning properly and ready for useful action.

By noon, the village had a working water pump again.

Workmanlike adj.

Competent, skillful, and practical, without unnecessary show.

The crew made a workmanlike repair before the next storm.

World-class adj.

Among the best in the world at a skill, service, or activity.

The small research center built a world-class climate model.

World-leading adj.

Among the most advanced or successful anywhere.

The university built a world-leading center for clean-water research.

World-renowned adj.

Celebrated internationally for exceptional quality or achievement.

A world-renowned cellist performed with the youth orchestra.

World-wise adj.

Experienced, perceptive, and practical about human affairs.

The world-wise counselor offered realistic hope without empty promises.

Worldly adj.

Experienced, knowledgeable, and socially sophisticated.

The worldly mentor helped students prepare for unfamiliar settings.

Worry-free adj.

Free from anxiety, difficulty, or troublesome demands.

Clear instructions made the family's first rail journey worry-free.

Worthwhile adj.

Important or useful enough to justify the time or effort involved.

The repair was slow but worthwhile.

Worthy adj.

Deserving respect, attention, effort, or care.

Every concern deserves a worthy answer grounded in evidence.

Wow-worthy adj.

Impressive enough to inspire delighted surprise or admiration.

The students unveiled a wow-worthy model of their solar village.

Wrinkle-free adj.

Remaining smooth and neat without visible creases.

The wrinkle-free uniforms stayed presentable throughout the long journey.

Wry adj.

Using dry, clever humor to show insight.

Her wry comment acknowledged the mistake without embarrassing anyone.

NounsWabi-sabi n.

An appreciation of beauty in natural imperfection and change.

Wabi-sabi guided the potter to honor each uneven edge.

Wanderlust n.

A strong and joyful desire to explore new places.

Wanderlust led the friends along quiet coastal paths.

Warm-up n.

A gentle preparation for exercise, performance, or focused work.

A playful warm-up helped the choir find its confidence.

Warmth n.

Friendly affection, kindness, or a comforting degree of heat.

Her warmth helped the nervous speaker relax.

Warrior n.

A brave and determined person who fights for a worthy cause.

The patient became a warrior for better access to treatment.

Wayfinder n.

A person or tool that helps others find a route or direction.

As the group's wayfinder, Lina checked each trail marker.

Wayfinding n.

The process of finding and following a route through a place.
Clear colors improved wayfinding through the hospital.

Waymaker n.

Someone who creates opportunities or opens paths for others.
The retiring principal was a waymaker for first-generation students.

Wealth n.

An abundant supply of something valuable or useful.
The archive contains a wealth of local knowledge.

Welfare n.

The health, safety, happiness, and general well-being of a person or group.
Every decision placed the children's welfare first.

Well-being n.

A state of health, comfort, safety, and contentment.
Regular breaks improved the team's well-being.

Well-wisher n.

A person who hopes for another's happiness or success.
Well-wishers filled the retirement card with warm memories.

Wellness n.

The active state of being healthy in body and mind.
The school added quiet rooms to support student wellness.

Wellspring n.

A rich and continuing source of something valuable.
Curiosity became a wellspring of new ideas for the team.

Whimsy n.

Playful imagination or charmingly unusual humor.
A touch of whimsy made the serious exhibit inviting.

Whiz n.

A person who is exceptionally skilled at something.
Ask Priya, our spreadsheet whiz, to check the formula.

Wholesomeness n.

The quality of supporting health, goodness, or well-being.
Families appreciated the festival's warmth and wholesomeness.

Will n.

Firm intention, determination, or readiness to act.
Her will to recover grew stronger with each small gain.

Willingness n.

Readiness to help, act, learn, or consider an idea.
His willingness to listen rebuilt trust.

Willpower n.

The ability to control impulses and persist toward a goal.
She used willpower to keep training on difficult mornings.

Windfall n.

An unexpected benefit, gain, or piece of good fortune.

The extra grant was a windfall for the youth orchestra.

Wingman n.

A trusted male companion who offers practical support.

Her wingman checked the route and carried the spare tools.

Wingwoman n.

A trusted female companion who offers practical support.

His wingwoman introduced him to everyone at the fundraiser.

Winner n.

A person, team, or idea that succeeds or proves especially good.

The simple low-cost design was the clear winner.

Wisdom n.

Sound judgment gained through knowledge, experience, and reflection.

Her wisdom helped the group act without rushing.

Wish n.

A hope or sincere desire for something good to happen.

Her birthday wish was for the whole family to gather.

Wit n.

The ability to think quickly and express ideas with clever humor.

Her gentle wit made the difficult lesson memorable.

Wizard n.

A person with exceptional skill in a particular field.

The scheduling wizard found room for every requested appointment.

Wonder n.

A feeling of delighted surprise and curiosity.

The night sky filled the children with wonder.

Wonder-worker n.

A person who achieves remarkably helpful or impressive results.

The grateful team called their inventive mechanic a wonder-worker.

Wonderland n.

A place filled with beauty, delight, or marvels.

Fresh snow transformed the familiar park into a quiet wonderland.

Wonderment n.

A feeling of delighted surprise, awe, and curiosity.

The first snowfall filled the children with wonderment.

Wordsmith n.

A person skilled at writing or choosing effective words.

The campaign's wordsmith turned technical findings into a clear message.

Work ethic n.

A dependable commitment to doing work carefully and responsibly.

Her strong work ethic earned the trust of every client.

Work of art n.

Something made with exceptional beauty, imagination, or skill.

The restored mosaic is a work of art and local pride.

Work-life balance n.

A healthy division of time between work and personal life.

Flexible hours improved work-life balance for the entire nursing team.

Workaround n.

A practical method that bypasses a problem successfully.

The technician found a safe workaround before the morning clinic opened.

Workhorse n.

A dependable person or thing that handles a great deal of useful work.

The sturdy printer is the office workhorse.

Workmanship n.

The skill and care shown in making or repairing something.

Fine workmanship is visible in every joint of the cabinet.

World-beater n.

A person or thing capable of surpassing excellent competition.

The small team developed a world-beater of an electric motor.

Worth n.

The value, usefulness, or importance of someone or something.

Her work showed the worth of preserving local knowledge.

Worthiness n.

The quality of deserving respect, attention, or support.

The panel judged each proposal on its worthiness and evidence.

Wow n.

A person or thing that is strikingly impressive or successful.

The renovated reading room is a real wow.

Wow-factor n.

A striking quality that creates immediate admiration or excitement.

Colorful lighting gave the modest stage genuine wow-factor.

Wunderkind n.

A young person with exceptional talent or achievement.

The chess wunderkind shared her strategies with the beginner group.

VerbsWelcome v.

To receive someone gladly or accept something with approval.

Residents welcomed the new clinic and its extended hours.

Whoop v.

To give a loud cry of excitement or joy.

The supporters whooped when their team scored.

Win v.

To achieve success in a contest or secure a desired result.

The campaign hopes to win safer crossings for the neighborhood.

Withstand v.

To resist difficulty or pressure without giving way.

The reinforced homes can withstand stronger storms and protect families.

Worship v.

To show deep reverence or devotion to a deity.

The congregation worshipped together at the morning service.

AdverbsWarmheartedly adv.

In a kind, generous, and openly caring way.

She warmheartedly welcomed the exchange students into her home.

Warmly adv.

In a friendly, affectionate, or enthusiastic way.

The audience warmly applauded every young performer.

Well adv.

In a skillful, healthy, satisfactory, or effective manner.

The volunteers worked well together under pressure.

Whimsically adv.

In a playfully imaginative or charming way.

The signs were whimsically painted with tiny woodland scenes.

Wholeheartedly adv.

With complete sincerity, commitment, or enthusiasm.

The committee wholeheartedly supported the safer design.

Wholesomely adv.

In a way that supports health, good character, or well-being.

The show entertains wholesomely without talking down to children.

Wholly adv.

Completely and without reservation.

The new route is wholly accessible to wheelchair users.

Willingly adv.

Readily and of one's own free choice.

Neighbors willingly shared tools with the rebuilding crew.

Winningly adv.

In an attractive, engaging, or successful way.

He winningly invited the shy child to join the game.

Wisely adv.

With sound judgment and careful understanding.

The team wisely saved a backup before the upgrade.

Wonderfully adv.

In an extremely pleasing, skillful, or enjoyable way.
The old and new sections work wonderfully together.

Wondrously adv.

In a way that inspires delight, wonder, or admiration.
The lanterns glowed wondrously among the trees.

Worthily adv.

In a way that deserves respect, honor, or a good result.
The apprentices carried the old craft worthily into a new generation.